

APT Panel

- Is the U.S. government responding correctly at a policy level? What can be accomplished better?

President Obama,
we're tired of China
pwning American
interests.

Eric, I had no idea –
Howard tells me
“there is no cyber
war.”

Howard, I'm afraid
there is a cyber war
and we are losing.

A photograph of Barack Obama speaking at a podium. He is wearing a dark suit, a white shirt, and a patterned tie. His right hand is raised in a fist. To his left is an American flag. In front of him is a podium with the Presidential Seal. A speech bubble is positioned above him, containing the text: "China is a threat. Cyber war is real. We will defend American interests."

China is a threat.
Cyber war is real. We will defend American
interests.

A photograph of Barack Obama and Hu Jintao sitting in ornate gold chairs during a meeting. They are positioned on either side of a small round table with a vase of red flowers. In the background, there are American and Chinese flags. A speech bubble is overlaid on the image, pointing towards Obama.

President Hu, stop
pwning American
companies.
